I know [redacted] one of your pass word. Lets get straight to purpose. You may not know me and you're probably thinking why you're getting this e mail? No person has paid me to check about you.

In fact, I actually installed a malware on the adult video clips (sex sites) website and do you know what, you visited this web site to have fun (you know what I mean). When you were watching videos, your web browser initiated functioning as a RDP having a keylogger which provided me with access to your display screen as well as web cam. Right after that, my software program obtained every one of your contacts from your Messenger, FB, as well as email . After that I created a video. First part shows the video you were viewing (you have a fine taste hehe), and second part shows the recording of your webcam, and its u.

You got only 2 solutions. We should review each one of these options in particulars:

1st solution is to ignore this e-mail. In this scenario, I am going to send your tape to every bit of your personal contacts and also just consider about the humiliation you feel. Keep in mind if you are in an affair, precisely how it will eventually affect?

Number two alternative should be to give me $2000. Lets call it a donation. In this instance, I most certainly will immediately erase your video. You could continue on your daily life like this never took place and you will not ever hear back again from me.

You will make the payment through Bitcoin (if you don't know this, search "how to buy bitcoin" in Google).

If you are thinking about going to the cops, well, this email cannot be traced back to me. I have dealt with my moves. I am not attempting to charge a fee a lot, I just like to be compensated.

You now have one day to make the payment. I've a specific pixel in this e mail, and now I know that you have read this email message. If I do not receive the BitCoins, I definitely will send out your video recording to all of your contacts including members of your family, coworkers, and so forth. However, if I do get paid, I will destroy the recording immediately. If you need evidence, reply with Yeah & I definitely will send out your video recording to your 7 contacts. This is a nonnegotiable offer thus please do not waste my time and yours by responding to this email message.

 An Update on LinkedIn Member Passwords Compromised

 Vicente Silveira June 6, 2012

We want to provide you with an update on this morning's reports of stolen passwords. We can confirm that some of the passwords that were compromised correspond to LinkedIn accounts. We are continuing to investigate this situation and here is what we are pursuing as far as next steps for the compromised accounts:

1. Members that have accounts associated with the compromised passwords will notice that their LinkedIn account password is no longer valid.
2. These members will also receive an email from LinkedIn with instructions on how to reset their passwords. There will not be any links in this email. Once you follow this step and request password assistance, then you will receive an email from LinkedIn with a password reset link.
3. These affected members will receive a second email from our Customer Support team providing a bit more context on this situation and why they are being asked to change their passwords.

It is worth noting that the affected members who update their passwords and members whose passwords have not been compromised benefit from the enhanced security we just recently put in place, which includes hashing and salting of our current password databases.

We sincerely apologize for the inconvenience this has caused our members. We take the security of our members very seriously. If you haven't read it already it is worth checking out my earlier blog post today about updating your password and other account security best practices.

Updating Your Password on LinkedIn and Other Account Security Best Practices

Vicente Silveira June 6, 2012

Our security team continues to investigate this morning's reports of stolen passwords. At this time, we're still unable to confirm that any security breach has occurred. You can stay informed of our progress by following us on Twitter @LinkedIn and @LinkedInNews.

While our investigation continues, we thought it would be a good idea to remind our members that one of the best ways to protect your privacy and security online is to craft a strong password, to change it frequently (at least once a quarter or every few months) and to not use the same password on multiple sites. Use this as an opportunity to review all of your account settings on LinkedIn and on other sites too. Remember, no matter what website you're on, it's important for you to make sure that you protect your account security and privacy.

Here are some account security and privacy best practices that we recommend for our members:

Changing Your Password:

- Never change your password by following a link in an email that you did not request, since those links might be compromised and redirect you to the wrong place.
- You can change your password from the LinkedIn Settings page.
- If you don't remember your password, you can get password help by clicking on the Forgot password? link on the Sign in page.
- In order for passwords to be effective, you should aim to update your online account passwords every few months or at least once a quarter.

Creating a Strong Password:

- Variety - Don't use the same password on all the sites you visit.
- Don't use a word from the dictionary.
- Length - Select strong passwords that can't easily be guessed with 10 or more characters.
- Think of a meaningful phrase, song or quote and turn it into a complex password using the first letter of each word.
